FLORISSANT POLICE

The City of Florissant has been selected to host one of this fall's four St. Louis County SKYWARN programs.

The objective of the SKYWARN program is to train and maintain volunteers to be severe weather observers, providing vital services in times of severe weather. SKYWARN'S training schedule provides details on the most comprehensive training seminars in the region. This fine program has been in operation since 1975.

This program is sponsored by the St. Louis County Police Department, Office of Emergency Management. The class is free, there is no charge to participate, and no one needs to be a member of any club or organization to become involved at any level. Your participation is welcomed! No registration is required.

The class for the Florissant area is scheduled for;

October 8, 2011 at 9:00am
James J. Eagan Civic Center
#1 James J. Eagan Drive
Florissant, MO 63033-3696

Other scheduled classes for the St. Louis County area are;

~~~UNIQUE TO THE ST. LOUIS COUNTY SKYWARN PROGRAM~~~

The St. Louis County SKYWARN Weather Reference Compact Disc! These CDs will be sent with training certificates. They contain weather spotter manuals and reference materials no longer available or current, as these have become too expensive to print in the large volumes various sources have provided in the past. This is yet another great reason to attend a St. Louis County SKYWARN class!
