

FLORISSANT POLICE DEPARTMENT
2008 ANNUAL REPORT

William Karabas
Chief of Police

A LETTER FROM CHIEF KARABAS

To the Citizens of Florissant,

The 2008 Annual Report briefly describes the department's organization, provides summary statistics, and highlights many of the programs offered by your police department.

This past year the city experienced a continuation of the increase in crime that started in late 2006. This increase was predicted by criminologists based upon a new generation of young people who commit the majority of crime, and the down turn in the nation's economy. In order to address the situation, the department has taken certain steps, like adding three more officers to the force, created a special squad to address problem areas, increased participation in our Neighborhood Watch Program, continued our participation in the DEA and FBI task forces, and re-aligned officers work schedules. All of these efforts are paying off in reducing crime.

The C.E.R.T. (Community Emergency Response Team) program continues to grow with some 175 of our citizens having been trained and equipped with emergency equipment. Our continued association with AARP by hosting their "Driver Safety Program" has helped many of our senior citizen drivers become better drivers and some receive a reduction in their insurance rates. The Citizen Police Academy opens up the department to our citizens on the operations and methods used to fight crime.

The dedicated men and women of your police department work hard every day to keep the city a safe place to live, work, and shop in. I am very proud of our officers and their unselfish efforts along with the elected officials and civic leaders that work together to make our community one of the nicest ones any where.

Sincerely,

Chief William Karabas

MISSION STATEMENT

“The mission of the Florissant Police Department is to provide the highest quality police services to the people of the City of Florissant, by promoting a safe environment through police and citizen interaction, with an emphasis on integrity, fairness, and professionalism.”

Citizen Interaction

We recognize our community-policing role as a partnership with the Citizens of Florissant. We need and encourage the participation of every citizen in solving problems and improving the quality of life for our community.

Integrity

In order to achieve public trust and build upon our community partnership, we demand the highest level of integrity in ourselves. Integrity is defined as being honest, moral, upright, and sincere.

Fairness

We are committed to upholding the law in an ethical, impartial, courteous, and professional manner. We serve every member of our community equally, regardless of race, sex, creed, national origin, or social status.

Professionalism

In order to insure the highest level of service to our community, we pledge to continually evaluate our programs and our performance. We promote organizational and individual standards of excellence. We encourage continuing education and training.

BUREAU OF FIELD OPERATIONS

Captain Jerry Burke commands the Bureau of Field Operations (BFO). The Bureau of Field Operations is the largest and most visible component of the Florissant Police Department. It is comprised of the uniformed men and women who patrol the city 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

UNIFORMED PATROL

A Lieutenant commands each patrol platoon of officers and oversees two Sergeants and 14 Police Officers. These officers are responsible for the around the clock public safety needs of the City. The patrols are divided strategically through eight patrol areas called sectors. Two of the platoons rotate between the day and afternoon watches every twenty-eight days, while the third platoon works a permanent midnight watch. Patrol Officers remain in permanent sector assignments allowing officers to develop a working knowledge of their beat and enhances their ability to prevent crime and have community involvement.

Under the Community Policing philosophy, officers on each patrol platoon may be assigned to Bicycle Patrol as staffing permits. These officers have received special training in safety and patrol techniques and are used to supplement the beat officers. Their bright blue and yellow uniforms are highly visible in the neighborhood shopping centers, parks and are used in specific patrol areas.

CANINE UNIT

The Canine Unit expanded to three teams in 2008 with the addition of Officer John Riehm and his canine partner, "Arko". The acquisition of Arko was made possible by the Ben Roethlisberger Foundation. The unit also includes Officer Shaun Kummer with his partner "Rex" and Officer Patrick O'Fallon with his partner "Bach."

The teams of officers with their canine partners serve a supplemental patrol function on their platoons and are available to perform narcotics detection, explosive materials/bomb detection, building searches, crowd control, and missing person searches. All three teams are graduates of the St. Louis Police Department's Police Canine Academy where they continue to receive in-service training. All dogs have current certifications in the North American Police Work Dog Association (NAPWDA) and Bach has a certification from the Missouri Police Canine Association.

The Canine Unit accomplished the following in 2008:

- Two (2) explosive call outs
- 12 canine demonstrations
- 141 building and 245 vehicle searches for narcotics
- 128 tracks for suspects
- 109 building searches for suspects
- Seven (7) suspect apprehensions, (4 non-bite surrenders and 3 bite apprehensions)
- 34 canine deployments resulting in arrest to other agencies

SPECIAL OPERATIONS

Specially trained officers whose functions include Traffic Safety and Code Enforcement support the patrol officers. These officers are under the command of a Lieutenant and include:

TRAFFIC SAFETY UNIT

Officers assigned are highly trained crash investigators, including two accident Reconstructionists and one Drug Recognition Examiner. During 2008, the department investigated 1,717 crashes with the Traffic Safety Officers investigating those crashes involving injuries as well as crashes involving 1 fatality. One (1) reconstruction report was completed and 250 leaving the scene cases were investigated. Traffic Safety Officers serve as ad hoc members of the Mayor's Traffic Commission. They also meet regularly with officials and engineers of the St. Louis County and Missouri Departments of Transportation to address safety concerns on county and state maintained roadways. Safety officers also coordinate many of the department's traffic safety enforcement programs including sobriety checkpoints, highway safety grants, and special campaigns. The Missouri Department of Highway Safety awarded the Traffic Unit $19,872 in 2008 for two selective enforcement programs, Driving While Intoxicated, and Hazardous Moving Violation offenders.

Florissant continues to participate in the “Keep Kids Alive, Drive 25” program with stepped-up enforcement in residential areas which was implemented in 2005. The goal of this campaign is to reduce speeding on residential streets, where the speed limit is commonly 25 mph. Speeding in neighborhoods continues to be a primary concern reported by residents across the city.

Another program offered by the Traffic Safety Unit is the Speed Check Radar Trailers, which were deployed in neighborhoods throughout the city in 2008. These trailers were updated in 2008 with the purchase of two new high-tech models. These units alert motorists to their driving habits creating awareness of speeding and are equipped to generate traffic studies used to determine enforcement activities.

Since May of 2006, the City of Florissant has contracted with American Traffic Solution for installation and maintenance of a Red Light Violation Camera System, which were installed at signalized intersections. Selections of intersections were based on statistically high accident locations. An additional intersection was added in 2008, bringing the total of intersections with this system to six (6) and 14 cameras.

SCHOOL RESOURCE OFFICER PROGRAM

The Florissant Police Department has formed partnerships with school districts which fund 75% of the costs of providing School Resource Officers (S.R.O.) for the academic school year. Four (4) officers are now assigned full-time to the School Resource Officer Program at Hazelwood Northwest Middle School, Cross Keys Middle School, McCluer High School, and McCluer North High School. The officers' duties include but are not limited to safety and security on and around campus, an educational resource, and administration.

The S.R.O. officers coordinate with the beat officers to alert them to issues affecting the school campus and the surrounding neighborhoods. S.R.O. officers handle off campus problems such as student parking in residential areas, students smoking near campus, and student trespassing.

D.A.R.E. PROGRAM

Two officers were assigned full-time as D.A.R.E. Instructors. Our D.A.R.E. program was taught to nearly 800 5th and 6th grade students in the 20 public and private elementary schools. To date over 13,700 students have graduated from the 10-week program. In addition, the officers provided safety and anti-drug programs to students in Kindergarten through 4th grade.

These officers also provided Gang Resistance Education and Training (G.R.E.A.T.) for 7th graders at Cross Keys Middle School and five parochial schools. The goal of this program is to reduce the pressures to join gangs. Students are taught conflict resolution, cultural sensitivity, and the negative influence gangs and drugs have on their lives.

SAFETY TOWN

The Florissant Police Department, in cooperation with the Rotary Club of Florissant, conducted the nationally recognized Safety Town Program. The facility, Duchesne Elementary School, was provided by the Ferguson-Florissant School District. Instructed by the D.A.R.E. Officers, this program educates 4 to 6 year old children about important safety issues such as bicycle and traffic safety, school bus safety, stranger danger, tool and toy safety and playground safety.

NEIGHBORHOOD PRESERVATION TASK FORCE

The Neighborhood Preservation Task Force is comprised of a Florissant Police Officer, a Health Department employee, and a Building Inspector. The unit allows a coordinated approach to addressing nuisance properties and vehicles. The result is the elimination of multiple complaints by more efficiently working together to solve problems. The unit works not only to enforce code violations but to assist residents in finding the resources to address the problems.

Where no other alternative exists, the unit prepares cases for criminal prosecution, executes abatement search warrants issued by the Municipal Court and takes appropriate action to remove nuisance, abandoned or derelict vehicles; property owners who refuse to maintain their property to City Code; and, locates out of town property owners whose local rental properties create a nuisance or fail to meet code.

POLICE RESERVE UNIT

The Florissant Police Reserve Unit is comprised of five (5) volunteer non-commissioned personnel who are appointed by the Chief of Police. A commissioned Sergeant assigned to the Bureau of Field Operations serves as liaison between the unit and the Chief of Police.

Reserve Officers have been selected and screened for appointment in the same fashion as a candidate for the position of commissioned police officer. Reserves received training at the St. Louis County & Municipal Police Academy. In-service training is conducted monthly in areas such as firearms, first aid/C.P.R., legal updates, and enforcement techniques. Reserve officers are required to participate in a minimum of 20 hours of department activities each month. This includes, ride-along with commissioned officers, court details, meetings, and assistance with special events such as the Valley of the Flowers, Fall Festival, and the Fourth of July celebration.

COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT

The Florissant Police Department has engaged in community policing practices for many years. In fact, the department encouraged officers to initiate activities such as foot patrols and citizen contacts long before such activities became vogue law enforcement practices. This tradition of community involvement has formally developed to include every component of the organization. Our community policing activities are the foundation by which we carry out our mission.

Florissant Police Officers are regularly engaged in community projects to improve the quality of life in the City of Florissant. A major 2008 project was the coordinating and assisting M-Fuge Mission, Chaminade Preparatory High School, Code Enforcement Team Officers, the Senior Citizen Office, Health Department, Parks Department and Community Development and Housing office with identifying and correcting housing code violations, general clean-up of properties owned by senior, disabled or indigent residents. Once again over 20 project sights were identified and given assistance as needed.

POLICE EXPLORER POST #9799

The Florissant Police Department sponsors a Boy Scouts of America Explorer Post, which is designed as a career development program for men and women between 14 and 21 years of age. Four commissioned officers serve as Post Advisors.

In addition to a ride-along program, members of the Post assist in many assignments such as parking lot control at the Valley of Flowers Festival and the 4th of July fireworks display, crime prevention presentations and youth related programs. The highlight for the year was the Post's participation in the 2008 National Law Enforcement Explorers Conference held in Fort Collins, CO. The conference hosted nearly 800 Law Enforcement Explorer Posts from around the United States and included seminars and competition events for explorers. One of the teams from the Florissant Post finished 5th best in the nation for their efforts in the Traffic Accident Investigation competition.

BUREAU OF SUPPORT SERVICES

The Bureau of Support Services is responsible for those operations that support the patrol and investigative efforts of the department. The Bureau of Support Services has been under the command of Captain John Foster. The functions under his command include the Communications Unit, Records Unit, Information Technology, Professional Standards, Internal Affairs, Training, Recruitment, and the Public Information Unit.

COMMUNICATIONS UNIT

The Communications Unit serves as the 9-1-1 Public Safety Answering Point for all public safety needs of the City of Florissant. In 2008 the Communication Unit handled 31,229 9-1-1 calls for emergency assistance and dispatched 41,658 calls for police service. The Communications Center routes all fire and medical emergency calls to the North Central Fire Alarm system to insure that the appropriate fire or emergency medical units are dispatched with police units.

The Communications Unit was staffed by nine full-time dispatchers and one part-time dispatcher. A minimum of two dispatchers are assigned around the clock to insure that calls are promptly handled.

The Communications Unit is equipped with a fully integrated Computer Aided Dispatch (CAD) System that links communications records to the department's Records Management System and mobile computers in the police vehicles. The mobile units are equipped with Global Positioning Satellite technology that pinpoints the location of units in the field allowing dispatchers to locate and dispatch the closest unit to priority calls.

RECORDS UNIT

The records unit is staffed by a full-time staff of three clerks who insure the processing, maintenance and distribution of police reports and other records. Police reports are dictated by officers in the field and the clerical staff transcribes the dictated reports into the department's Records Management System (RMS). During 2008 the clerical staff transcribed 5,417 reports.

The record room is available to the public Monday through Friday, excluding holidays, between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. Open police reports may be obtained at the police department by a mail. The processing charge is $10 per report.

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY UNIT

The Florissant Police Department utilizes technology to assist and supplement staffing wherever feasible. A civilian, Steve Weiersmueller, is responsible for maintaining many computers and software packages utilized by the department.

In addition to computer aided dispatching, an integrated records management system, and a cadre of office programs, the department utilizes mobile computing to make the officers in the field more efficient. The mobile computers in police vehicles have access to the various department systems as well as regional arrest and warrant information, state drivers and vehicle license information including the ability to view drivers' license photographs and arrest photos, enhancing the officers' ability to identify offenders.

The department internet web-site provides citizens and other law enforcement agencies with easy access to information and department resources. Information readily available on our web site includes news of department activities, press releases, annual reports and the ability to file on-line requests and comments which are routed directly to the appropriate staff members.

This was a very productive year for Information Technology in the police department. New equipment was implemented, several systems were upgraded, and numerous training sessions were held with employees to bring them up to speed with updates and new programs.

A major implementation during 2008 was Mobile Ticketing. Mobile Ticketing allows officers to enter citations into the mobile computers in their patrol cars, printing a copy for the violator. Mobile ticketing reduces clerical data entry because the officer's entry uploads the information directly to court docketing and statistical software systems simultaneously.

ACCREDITATION

The department is internationally accredited by the Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement Agencies. Florissant is one of only 27 state, county or local law enforcement agencies in Missouri fully accredited by CALEA.

The department was initially accredited in March of 2001 and must undergo reaccreditation every three years. The department's last reaccredited was in March 2007. During the reaccreditation process the department must demonstrate continued compliance with 460 standards developed by CALEA members and staff to foster "best practices" in the delivery of law enforcement services.

The Sergeant assigned to supervise the Communications Unit also maintains the accreditation files and is responsible for the recruiting and training coordination functions. The department is active in the Missouri Coalition for Law Enforcement Accreditation, working with other accredited agencies to improve the accreditation process.

INTERNAL AFFAIRS

The Chief of Police designates a commander to act as the Inspector of Police and that function currently rests with the Commander of the Bureau of Support Services. Most allegations of misconduct are handled by the immediate supervisor of the employee but allegations that are serious or criminal in nature are referred to the Inspector of Police for investigation. The objective of the process is to insure confidence and trust in the police department.

During 2008 the department investigated 10 allegations of misconduct involving nine different employees including five sworn officers, one corrections officer, and three dispatchers. The allegations included:

- 7 Violations of department rules or regulations;
- 1 allegation of improper arrest which was unfounded; and,
- 2 allegations of excessive force, one of which was unfounded and one of which was non-sustained.

The Inspector of Police also reviews all "Use of Force" incidents to insure compliance with department policy and procedure as well as to determine if additional training is warranted.

During 2008 the department affected 5,939 adult arrests. There was no lethal force used during 2008. Officers found it necessary to use some degree of less-lethal force to affect only 36 of those arrests as well as one juvenile arrest. That equates to force being used in slightly over one half of one percent of the adult arrest made.

The following is a review of the use by force by type:

• Firearm discharge	0
• TASER	26
• Impact Weapon	0

Utilization of the TASER has resulted in a reduction of injuries to both arrestees and officers. No arrestees were injured in 2008 and only one officer suffering a minor thumb injury.

DEPARTMENT TRAINING

To support the department's mission, the training goal of the department is to continually improve professionalism of the officers and staff. The Peace Officers Standards and Training (P.O.S.T.) Commission require all police officers in the state of Missouri to complete a minimum of 48 hours of P.O.S.T approved continuing education every three years.

During the year of 2008 officers of the Florissant Police Department completed 2,747 hours of continuing education. That averaged 33.50 hours per officer. The aforementioned hours included 1 hour of racial profiling and 4 hours of firearms training for each officer. The training providers included the Federal Bureau of Investigation National Academy, St. Louis County Municipal Academy, Missouri State Highway Patrol Academy, Federal Law Enforcement training Center, Missouri Police Chief Association, and Missouri Safety Center.

In-service training was provided for all reserve and sworn officers in Bias-Based Profiling Issues, Use of Force and Weapons Proficiency; Weapons of Mass Destruction Awareness, Dealing with the Mentally Ill, Handling Blood borne Pathogens, Defensive Tactics, Evidence Procedures and Prisoner Handcuffing & Control, and Ethics.

Other specialized areas of training included Arson Investigation, Accident Reconstruction, Standardized Field Sobriety Testing Instructor, Firearms Instructor, Field Training Officers, Advanced Crime Scene Investigation and Crisis Intervention. In addition, all officers are trained, and required to qualify with duty weapons including pistol, patrol rifle and the TASER.

Live-fire shooting is conducted in the Department's mobile firearms training unit, which is a fully self-contained range in a 60-foot trailer, as well as outdoor ranges operated by the Missouri Department of Conservation and the Berkeley Police Department.

PUBLIC INFORMATION UNIT

The Public Information Unit, staffed by a Sergeant, is responsible for statistical analysis, crime prevention programs, media relations, and public information, all of which are key elements in the Florissant Police Department's efforts toward the prevention and reduction of crime. Programs and activities of the Public Information Unit include:

Crime Analysis

The Public Information Officer is responsible for the collection, analysis, and dissemination of statistics on crime and calls for service. This information is used to establish directed patrols and the review of beat structure.

Crime data is transmitted to the Missouri State Highway Patrol and the Federal Bureau of Investigation, both of which compile extensive reports on crime in Missouri and the United States.

Security Surveys/Business Seminars

The Public Information Unit can arrange for a police officer to survey your home or business and assess the security of the site. Findings and recommendations are provided to reduce the chances of being victimized.

Neighborhood Watch

The Neighborhood Watch Program assists residents to protect themselves, their homes, and neighborhoods, by training them during neighborhood meetings. Residents are shown how to secure their property, how to identify and report suspicious activity, and how to be good neighbors.

Over the years the program grew stagnant with little active participation from the citizens. Efforts to revitalize the Neighborhood Watch Program began in 2008 with the development of presentations at ward meetings and public gatherings to gain new membership. These presentations were met with much enthusiasm with a significant resurgence of interest in active membership.

Regularly scheduled monthly Neighborhood Watch meetings are now held at the Florissant Police Department to help promote new membership, show crime trends, and discuss strategies neighbors can use to deter criminal activity and present crime prevention topics for attendees.

During 2008 a new monthly Neighborhood Watch newsletter was instituted and is posted monthly on the police department's website. The newsletter provides citizens and Neighborhood Watch members with crime statistics as well as crime prevention tips and other pertinent personal safety information.

F.P.D. Roll Call Show

Televised on Channel 10, the local government cable access channel, this program is produced by the Public Information Officer to highlight department programs, safety tips, crime trends, and public safety issues such as emergency preparedness.

Website www.florissantmo.com/police.htm

The site is maintained and updated by the Public Information Officer with the assistance of the City of Florissant Informational Technology department. The site includes information about the Department, monthly Neighborhood Watch Newsletter, monthly crime statistics, current schedule of events, upcoming citizen training programs such as C.E.R.T. and the Citizen Police Academy, emergency preparedness information, as well as providing links to other crime prevention related sites.

Citizen Volunteers

The Auxiliary volunteers of the Florissant Police Department provide an opportunity for citizens of the community to assist law enforcement in the delivery of programs and information to the community. Our volunteers are proud representatives who are dedicated to providing excellent service through relationships that build trust, creates a safe environment, and enhances the quality of life in our community. In offering their time, skills and services, these citizen volunteers help supplement and support officers and civilian personnel by allowing them to concentrate on their primary duties.

Some activities the volunteers have been involved in; the annual Kansas City Life Baseball Card Giveaway Program, Bicycle Rodeos, Missouri Law Enforcement Special Olympic T-shirt Sales, Veteran's Day Parade, Florissant Valley Jaycee's 5K Run, MOCHIPS Child Fingerprint Program, and the American Cancer Society Relay for Life Benefit.

Citizen Police Academy

The Citizen Police Academy is a unique opportunity for citizens to experience a glimpse of the training a police officer receives in the Police Academy. Areas of instruction include Constitutional and Criminal Law, First Aid/C.P.R., Juvenile Procedures, Patrol Procedure, Evidence Collection and Processing, and Cinetronics Firearms Training. It is an eight-week educational citizen involvement activity designed by the Police Department as part of our C.O.P.S. Program. The goal of this class is to promote understanding between citizens and police officers regarding their respective needs and concerns. By promoting this understanding it is hoped that citizens and police will work together. The department held one academy session during 2008.

Community Emergency Response Team (C.E.R.T.)

The Public Information Unit manages C.E.R.T. training as a partnering effort between emergency services and the people they serve. The goal is for emergency personnel to train citizens, community organizations, and businesses in basic response skills. C.E.R.T. members are then integrated into the emergency capability for their area.

The program consists of 21 hours of training, one night a week for six weeks. Emergency Responders such as firefighters, emergency medical personnel and law enforcement personnel from your community will teach this course. Two sessions were held in 2008. Over 170 citizens have completed C.E.R.T. training since 2004.

If a disastrous event overwhelms or delays the community's professional response, C.E.R.T. members can assist others by applying the basic response and organizational skills that they learned during training. These skills can help save and sustain lives following a disaster until help arrives. C.E.R.T. skills also apply to daily emergencies. This training is provided free of charge.

Florissant C.E.R.T. is aligned with the North County Citizen Corp Coalition. Participating with this coalition allows Florissant to take advantage of additional instructors, training sessions, and will allow residents to attend any C.E.R.T. training offered in the North St. Louis County area through the coalition.

In September 2008, members from the Florissant C.E.R.T. program participated in a mock disaster, an earthquake scenario, sponsored by the North County Citizen Corp Coalition. The exercise was designed with four stations with the primary focus on administering first-aid, as each station required participants to apply some level of first-aid skills, triage, transporting injured players, and setting up and maintaining a staging area for injured players.

Additional Community Policing Programs

The department also hosted or conducted many other programs that directly impact the community we serve. Among the many programs offered, the Public Information Officer is charged with coordinating the following programs:

- Coordinates the police intern program for High School and College students
- Coordinates with the Police Chaplains
- Public Information Unit is the host distributing point for the Kansas City Life Insurance Baseball Card Give-Away Program
- Bicycle Rodeo and Safety Clinics
- Child Fingerprinting & Identification
- Sponsorship of the AARP "Driver Safety" Program
- Provide Free Firearm Trigger Locks
- Sponsorship in the American Cancer Society Relay for Life
- Participation in the Missouri Special Olympics Fund Raising efforts
- Serve as collection point for the Kurt Warner's Warm Up (winter coats)

BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Lieutenant Timothy Lowery has been the commander of the Bureau of Investigation (BOI). The Bureau of Investigation is responsible for the follow-up investigations on all reported crimes, investigation of vice and narcotics, the collection, processing, and storage of evidence, and the detention of prisoners. During 2008 Lieutenant Lowery attended the Federal Bureau of Investigation National Academy for professional management development.

CRIMINAL INVESTIGATION UNIT

Eight detectives and two sergeants are assigned to conduct follow-up investigations. The Detectives work in teams of two and investigate crimes committed in their specialized field such as burglary, crimes against persons, crimes against property, etc. Detectives routinely initiate investigations into liquor violations, drug activity, vice, and any other criminal offenses discovered to be occurring in the city.

In 2008 the BOI cleared 1,163 of the 2,673 offenses investigated. That represents an overall clearance rate of 43.5%. There was a clearance rate of 58% for serious crimes such as Robbery, Burglary, Sex Offenses and Assaults.

All of the investigators are also members of the Major Case Squad of Greater St. Louis. The Florissant Police Department continues to take a strong lead in Squad activities. Lt. Lowery serves as a Deputy Commander and several of the Squad Supervisors are from the Florissant Police Department.

A detective assigned to the BOI is specially trained to handle crimes and status offenses committed by youths under the age of 17. They maintain close ties with the Family Court of St. Louis County and various youth service groups. The Juvenile Detective is specially trained in the investigation of child abuse and neglect. The Juvenile Detective maintains all juvenile records and gang intelligence information.

NARCOTICS AND GANG TASK FORCES

The Florissant Police Department cooperates in Federal Investigative Task Forces targeting regional drug and gang related activities. One investigator is assigned full-time to a Drug Enforcement Administration (D.E.A.) Task Force and another investigator is assigned full-time to a Federal Bureau of Investigation (F.B.I.) Violent Crime Task Force, targeting gang related crime throughout the St. Louis area.

EVIDENCE TECHNICIAN UNIT

Two Detectives are assigned as Evidence Technicians. They are responsible for processing major crime scenes for evidence. Both are highly trained in the collection of fingerprints, blood evidence, trace tissue, and fiber samples. During 2008 the ETU handled property and evidence from 1,913 cases and handled 4,200 individual pieces of evidence. The police department utilizes a state of the art property control bar code system. The system allows evidence technicians to efficiently track, control, and manage seized property.

Evidence technicians utilize a fully digital photography lab, as well as a forensic video lab. These labs allow the technicians to read, isolate, enhance, and print evidence located on videotape, digital disc, and film. Technicians use a special ultra-violet light crime-scope camera to locate latent fingerprints and footprint evidence.

During 2008 146 latent fingerprints were submitted to the Automated Fingerprint Identification System, (A.F.I.S.) at the St. Louis County Crime Laboratory for identification purposes with positive identifications on 32 suspects. The remaining submissions remain in A.F.I.S. for comparisons to suspects entered in the future.

CORRECTIONS UNIT

Five full-time Corrections Officers are assigned to the BOI process and supervise detainees who are being held in the department's holding facility on charges ranging from misdemeanors to serious felonies. These non-commissioned officers handled the processing and detention of 5,939 prisoners arrested by officers of the department in 2008.

All arrestees are photographed into the regional IRIS mug-shot system and fingerprinted into the Live Scan automated fingerprint system that electronically transmits the fingerprints to the Missouri State Highway Patrol's AFIS database.

STATISTICAL INFORMATION AT A GLANCE

The Florissant Police Department voluntarily reports all crime reports to the Uniform Crime Reporting Program of the Missouri State Highway Patrol. These statistics are subsequently forwarded to the Federal Bureau of Investigation for inclusion in the FBI's annual report "Crime in the United States"

TRAFFIC ENFORCEMENT SUMMARY

Traffic Safety remains a primary concern of the department. While officers assigned to the Traffic Safety Unit investigate crashes and take a leading roll in special traffic enforcement campaigns, it is the responsibility of all patrol officers to enforce traffic safety ordinances. During 2008 the department issued 18,047 citations, most for traffic related violations. These included 303 arrests and citations for offenses involving driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs.

The City of Florissant also contracts with American Traffic Solutions for the management and maintenance of a Red Light Violation Camera System designed to identify and cite violators of electric traffic signals, using 13 cameras at the six intersections having the significantly highest number of crashes caused by red light violations. The cameras capture vehicles that enter the intersection only after the traffic signal changed to a red light before the vehicle reached the stop bar painted on the pavement.

Every violation is reviewed by an officer before being issued to the violator. In 2008 there were 12,219 red light violations reviewed resulting in 9,869 notices of violation being sent to motorists who violated these electric signals. Examples of some of the most egregious examples of these violation scan be seen on the department web site.
