Mayor Schneider and other mayors from around the state were invited to meet with the newly appointed Governor Mike Parson to discuss a partnership to promote progress for the many residents of Missouri Municipalities including infrastructure and code enforcement.

Mayor Schneider added "I was impressed with the hospitality and wholesome demeanor of the Governor and his wife Theresa. He shares the pragmatic attitude of the Mayors of the state to get the job done serving the people and putting politics in the background. He is willing to share the stage and he pledged support to invest in the infrastructure including supporting the needed increase in fuel tax for MO Highway investment. All the mayors present appreciated the Governor's invitation to meet."
