THE CITY OF FLORISSANT 2020 US CENSUS RESULTS ARE IN!

Mayor Lowery is pleased to announce that the results of the 2020 US Census are in and it shows an increase in our current population from the last results in 2010.

In the Fall of 2019, Mayor Lowery met with members of his administration to begin preparations for the 2020 Census. The main goal was to ensure that all of our residents were counted and that Florissant retain the important status of being the largest municipality and a premier community in Saint Louis County.

After almost two years of work, effort, and time invested, Mayor Lowery is pleased to report that the population of Florissant has grown to a level not seen in the city since the mid 1980's! There are currently 52,533 people that reside in our fair city!

Mayor Lowery wishes to thank all of those who made this achievement possible. He has immense gratitude to the members of the city council, the hard-working city staff, the numerous volunteers, and all of the residents for sharing in the important responsibility of reporting our population data correctly.

Mayor Lowery states, "Looking forward, we now have the collective opportunity to write the next chapter in our rich history here in North Saint Louis County. Working jointly with all citizens of Florissant, we can see even more growth in population, investment, and development over the next decade."
